Pay Hikes For Police Proposed

$25 Monthly Raise Asked In Seven Point Police Plan

City Council at its regular meeting, Monday night, heard a report from the Sedalia Police Personnel Board with reference to recommendations to the Council on matters pertaining to the Police Department and its proposed budget. The budget amount was not submitted to the council for action at this meeting.

The board had seven points to offer in their recommendations among them being a $25-a-month raise across the board to all members of the department except the chief, and an additional $20 differential in pay for any member assigned to regular duty as a motorcycle rider. The latter was due to the increase in insurance for officers assigned this duty.

The recommendations also included a change in handling of school crossings by hiring part time personnel so as to relieve regular police officers to continue on normal police duty.

The recommendations are as follows:

"The Sedalia Police Personnel Board met Tuesday evening, May 25, 1964, and during the meeting had an occasion to study the budget as prepared and submitted by Chief Miller.

"Based upon our study of the budget and also upon past experience with problems that have arisen in the department, the members of the board respectfully make the following recommendations to the Mayor and Council with reference to that budget.

"(1) The Police Department has been understaffed and undermanned for a considerable period of time. We, therefore, suggest that the department strength be brought up to a

Astronauts Receive Fast Geology Course

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — At least 23 astronauts will tramp the rugged country of the Philmont Boy Scout Ranch in northeastern New Mexico the rest of this week.

The space men are completing a quickie geology course with the field trip. Other visits have been made to the Grand Canyon, West Texas and Arizona.

Seventeen astronauts will fly to Trinidad, Colo., today, then motor about 60 miles to Cimarron. Maj. L. Gordon Cooper will fly his own plane to Cimarron. Six more astronauts are scheduled to arrive from Los Angeles.

Batting Champion Gets Spike Wound

LOS ANGELES (AP) — American League batting champion Carl Yastrzemski spiked himself sliding into second base Monday night and probably will be out of the Boston line-up a day or two.

Dr. Robert Woods, the Angel team physician, said the cut probably would require five or six stitches. Woods had Yastrzemski taken to a hospital in nearby Inglewood.

Blood 'Donation' Before Execution

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Condemned Cuban prisoners are forced to contribute to a blood bank before they are shot, exiles claimed today.

Anti-Castro leaders protested to international organizations that Ruben Acosta and Justo Garcia, both 16, were forced to donate blood, then executed.

Maneuver In Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — The U. S. Army Infantry Brigade in West Berlin began maneuvers today involving about 4,000 men supported by tanks and artillery.

The operation, to run four days, brings together all units stationed in the Communist-surrounded city to test and improve combat readiness.

BIG TEST — Political answers now lie in the California primary vote totals. Gov. Nelson Rockefeller flew from the coast to New York to visit his wife and new son as the campaign waned. In the photo, the governor shakes hands with Joseph Foti, 5, while leaving the hospital.

462 Names On Ballot

Slow Vote Start In Coast Primary

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California Republicans set out today to decide the head-on clash between Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in a high-stakes presidential primary.

Voting started slowly in big city areas. More than four million of the seven million voters were expected to cast ballots.

The weather was clear. Majority Democrats were drawn to the polls to settle a battle between Pierre Salinger, former White House press secretary; and State Controller Alan Cranston for the party's nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Altogether, 462 candidates competed for places on the November ballot for 38 congressional and 100 legislative seats.

Republicans chose between Goldwater and Rockefeller in a last-in-the-nation primary that may shape the kind of Republican the party will nominate for president in July.

A turbulent finish climaxed the campaign for 86 pledged delegates in a showdown between the professed conservatism of the Arizona senator and the moderate credo of the New York governor.

It's a winner-take-all affair, with no write-ins permitted.

Balmy weather, quickening interest in the presidential race and a fierce, party-splitting battle for the Democratic senatorial nomination were expected to bring out nearly 70 per cent of the state's 4 million Democratic voters and 2.9 million Republicans.

Goldwater, disputing statewide polls which tabbed Rockefeller to repeat his May 15 Oregon victory, told an airport rally in Los Angeles: "We're going to win. I've never been so confident."

Rockefeller, who finished up two terminals away at the sprawling airport, avoided any predictions. But his supporters remained optimistic that he would win—and win fairly big.

Margaret Burke Dies

MILTON, Mass. (AP) — Margaret E. Burke, 54, wife of Rep. James A. Burke, D-Mass., died Monday night at her home. She had been a semi-invalid for many years.

At Meeting Monday Night

City Council Appoints Salaried City Employees

By D. Kelly Scruton

The City Council, Monday night, appointed all city employees who are on salary, with the exception of the Police Department members who need not be approved by the council due to the new Merit System. No board appointments were recommended by Mayor L. L. Studer at this meeting.

Mayor Studer, under new business, told the council members he would name only those persons who are on salary at this time for approval. He said, "I am withholding the presentation of various non-paying committee appointments until probably Monday night, June 15. I feel some more thought should be given to the committee appointments before they are brought up. Present members of the various committees will hold over until the appointments are made."

The council named the sanitation engineer, a new job created under the recommendation of Missouri State Water Pollution Board in connection with the sewer project now underway. Named to the position was Robert Reardon, Ninth and Arlington, who will assume his duties as of July 1.

After Monday night's meeting Mollenhoff said his switch could be traced to "certain pressures that were relative to some governmental figures . . . tampering around in the Press Club."

Joseph A. Dear of Dear Publications, club president, said he knew of no direct governmental efforts to pressure the club. He conceded there had been reports of such efforts, however, and said there were some indications speakers were being routed away from the club.

No Americans Hurt In Bomb Explosion

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A terrorist bomb, presumably Viet Cong Communist, was detonated Monday in a bar frequented by U.S. Army personnel at Bac Lieu, 120 miles southwest of Saigon. None of the Americans inside was injured, U.S. military authorities here reported.

Quadruplets Born

NEW YORK (AP) — A 30-year-old woman gave birth today to quadruplets.

One boy and three girls were born to Maria Peloro at Interboro General Hospital in Brooklyn. All the babies were delivered within half an hour.

The weights of the infants: the boy, 2 pounds, 13 ounces; the girls, 2 pounds, 2 pounds, 8 ounces; and 2 pounds, 13 ounces.

Red Romania Armed With Trade Policy

Nuclear Plants Seen In Export Business Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Armed with a new U.S. trade policy pledge, Communist Romania hopes to buy large quantities of American industrial equipment soon — probably including two big nuclear power plants.

The Bucharest government, which has rejected Soviet economic domination, is reported to have a shopping list for purchases of industrial equipment in the United States and Western Europe amounting to possibly $150 million.

How much of this will be bought in the United States under a government agreement announced Monday will depend on what kind of deals the Romanians can make with manufacturers and the credit terms they can get.

U.S. officials said the credit issue is still unresolved and will require a decision by President Johnson. Whether they expect Johnson will decide it is in the U.S. interest to have the Export-Import Bank guarantee five-year credits for Romania.

The new pact negotiated during the past two weeks also provides that the legations in Washington and Bucharest will be elevated to embassies. William A. Crawford, U.S. minister to Romania, is expected to be given the new ambassadorial post.

Milk Prices Up

Milk prices in most stores in Sedalia were reported up Monday. Reports indicated that prices on the standard half-gallon size of milk had risen from 46 cents to 51 cents, over ten percent increase. Proportionate increases were noted in the prices of other quantities of milk.

Two others were sentenced to prison for unannounced terms.

The new pact negotiated during the past two weeks also provides that the legations in Washington and Bucharest will be elevated to embassies. William A. Crawford, U.S. minister to Romania, is expected to be given the new ambassadorial post.

The three were shot Monday at Camaguey, 300 miles southeast of Havana, after a trial by a revolutionary tribunal, a communiqué said.

Two others were sentenced to prison for unannounced terms.

The executions of the alleged CIA agents were the second announced within a week. Four were shot last Thursday.

In his acceptance speech to Parliament, Shastri pledged to work for Nehru's goal of a united, Socialist India, declaring: "Socialism is our objective."

Shastri indicated his high regard for the late prime minister's daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi.

Shastri wept as he recalled Nehru's death last week and said of Mrs. Gandhi: "Her continued association with us will be a source of strength to all of us."

A few hours earlier the ruling Congress party had named Shastri, 59, by acclamation to be their leader, a designation which automatically carries with it the title of prime minister.

Ann Landers Answers Your Problems

Fake Repairs To TV Sets Under Probe

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Better Business Bureau covering the New York metropolitan area recently received a flurry of complaints about television repair service—fake repairs and phony bills.

The bureau set up a television set in perfect order except for one good $2 tube which was carefully replaced by a worn-out one and installed in the home of a BBB investigator. The television service was summoned.

The repairman appeared, murmured something about a big, difficult job and carried the set back to his shop. In due time it was returned—with a $41 bill. The information was turned over to the district attorney. Prosecution and conviction followed.

Fortunately as the television business grows older, the number of gyp repairmen has diminished impressively. Such situations are becoming more and more infrequent.

The New York BBB received 1,034 complaints about television repair practices in 1959. Last year, this total had dropped to 598.

"People often are attracted by low prices," said a Better Business Bureau representative. "They are tempted to call in someone who advertises a charge of only $1, $2 or $3 for a service call. We've pointed out many times that a repairman can't make a living on such a basis and that he might try to Show your mother this column and tell her you are the girl who wrote. Ask her to get some guidance from the librarian or the family doctor. There are several good books for girls your age and if she gets the books for you she will be doing her duty.

Dear Ann Landers: This problem may seem like small potatoes to you but it is causing me a lot of aggravation.

We live in a very nice neighborhood but the homes on our side of the street are close together. The woman who lives next door shakes her dirty mops and throw rugs out her bedroom window. Her window faces my sewing room and I get all her dirt and dust. I thought only ignorant slobs did such things.

Our home is a two-story dwelling, just as hers is, but I always go outside and shake my rugs and mops behind the house. She has seen me do this but refuses to take the hint. What next?—SALLY.

Dear Sally: Stop hinting and tell her you'd appreciate it if she'd give you a few minutes warning before she shakes her rugs and mops—so you can close your windows.

C 1964, Publishers Newspaper Syndicate.

Dear Ann Landers: I told myself for months I was imagining that it was impossible. But now I know the truth. Last night I witnessed an incident which leaves no room for doubt. My older sister, who is divorced, is making a play for my husband.

Wade and I have been married three years. We have one little boy and I'm pregnant again. We've always gotten along well and I have never worried about Wade cheating. But it's easy to see how a man could get involved with Annette. She is beautiful, provocative and so aggressive you wouldn't believe it.

Last night we had some people over. I went to the back porch to get more ice cubes. As I walked toward the kitchen I heard Annette say, "I've felt this way about you from the first." Wade replied, "You're drunk, Annette. Please be quiet or someone will hear you."

I walked around to the front of the house and came in through the front door.

I'm sick at heart. What shall I do?—SHATTERED.

Dear Shattered: Tell your husband you heard the back porch dialogue and let him know you trust him implicitly.

Tell Wade, too, you will say nothing to Annette—that it's up to him. Then stay out of it. Carry on with her as if you heard nothing and know nothing.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a girl who will be twelve years old in ten months. All my friends have been told the facts of life by their mothers. My mother hasn't said one word to me about anything personal, yet. Isn't this her duty?

I have dropped some hints to her but she acts like she doesn't know what I am talking about. I am very much interested in this subject and there are loads of things I would like to know.

Some girls tell their little brothers and sisters everything they hear. I think maybe this is why mother doesn't tell me anything. She is afraid I will blab it around, but I am not that type.

Please advise me how to get my mother to have a private talk with me. I feel left out when my friends compare notes on what their mothers have told them. — NEEDING TO KNOW MORE.

Dear Needing: Some mothers find it difficult to talk to their children about personal things. This is because they were brought up by mothers who never talked to them about such things.

It is much better if a mother is able to speak freely to her children, but I hope you won't feel that your mother is not doing her duty if she can't, because it's not her fault.

Shopping Tips Given Smelser Women in May

"Shopping Signals for Buying Clothing" was the program topic presented May 28 by Mrs. Craig Temple for Smelser Extension Club at the home of Mrs. Louesa Thomason.

Mrs. Temple said clothing purchases should be saved for and considered ahead of time. Consideration should be given, she explained, to size and color needs of each family member. "Shoes should be selected for correct fit and durability. Reliable stores should be patronized and time taken to select needs," said Mrs. Temple. She suggested clothing be purchased ahead of seasons and discussed new fabrics.

Guests were Deborah and David Tien, Leslie Ann Powell and Terry Smith.

EDITORIALSVoters' House Cleaning Time

Almost four pages of names of registered voters of Sedalia were published in the Monday and Tuesday issues of the Democrat and Capital by J. H. Green, clerk of the Pettis County Court.

They were in two sections.

The first gave names of registered voters who, by the record, apparently have not voted any the last four years. Notice is given by law that unless within 30 days these persons send the county clerk a signed card or letter for their reinstatement, their registration will be cancelled.

In the second section notice is given that the registration law requires the clerk's records be verified as to addresses every four years. Published therewith was a list of registered voters and their addresses that have been checked and found to be incorrect. Law requires that within 30 days of the publication of names the voters listed must either appear at the County Clerk's office and sign a transfer of address form or mail a letter or card to that effect.

Now there may be some individuals who will become over-sensitive about publication of their names, yet there is no stigma attached or intended by the county clerk's publication of names. He is directed by law to do it every four years and the matter seems regular and proper if the registration records are to be kept in orderly and legal manner.

Some people who are listed as not having voted in four years in Sedalia, simply have moved into the county, elsewhere in the state or to some other state without advising the county clerk to remove their names from the records here. Chances are most of them have registered some other place and have been voting there all along. Some may have died or changed their names. In other instances voters have changed their residence in Sedalia and never bothered to notify the clerk. There are quite a few of these individuals.

At any rate Sedalia voters whose names appeared and who are still able to walk to the court house or write a post card to the county clerk are urged to respond immediately.

They are assured that the only purpose for this appeal is to bring the registration books up to date. Judging from four pages of names published it's time the job was undertaken. This is the year for it. The county clerk and his staff will appreciate pleasant cooperation.

So let's none of us get huffy about it.

Housewife Correctors

A group of housewives in Princeton, New Jersey, have become tutors in English composition to a group of high school students. An English teacher in a local high school created the program four years ago and he says the improvement in the students is remarkable.

The "correctors," all of whom are required to have a bachelor's degree in English are in charge of seven students ranging in age from 11 to 14. They meet with the students in a group over a ten week period to suggest and discuss topics. They follow up with individual meetings for corrections.

This home style volunteer tutoring has relieved the pressures on the teachers' theme correcting, has lessened homework because the students do all their writing in school hours, has improved the students writing ability, made the parents happy because their children's study habits are better and the talents of retired English teachers and professional writers have been utilized.

Princeton is an intellectual community with women of leisure who can put this program across. Could it be done on a smaller scale elsewhere? It would have to be instituted by the schools themselves, in towns where there are college graduates who could form a volunteer teaching group. The subjects need not be limited to English, although theme correcting is one of a teacher's most time consuming tasks. Arithmetic tic and spelling papers also are time consuming.

The effort must be a cooperative one and the volunteers must stick to their corrective task but the rewards are manifold especially to the students who see their week-to-week improvement.

Washington Merry-Go-RoundCattlemen Told to Help Themselves

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON—The nation's most celebrated cattle rancher, Lyndon B. Johnson, told a group of cattlemen to their faces the other day that they should solve the meat surplus problem "the American way" by complaining less to Congress and selling more cattle to meat-hungry Europeans.

The president made it clear they were wasting their time trying to get special legislation to aid the meat industry, because even if Congress passed it, he would veto it.

He pointed out that Europeans were eating more meat but finding less available. Beef shipments from Argentina had been reduced because of drought and domestic requirements. Result: meat prices had shot up in Europe at the same time they had dropped in the United States.

The president urged the cattlemen to take advantage of the situation by practicing a little American salesmanship. He told them not to expect any government-to-government bargaining but to make their own "trade-for-trade deals."

The idea of unloading our meat surpluses in Europe was first proposed by Assistant Agriculture Secretary Dorothy Jacobson, who called attention in a confidential memo to the European meat shortage.

She pointed out that higher living standards have increased the demand for meat in Europe but that meat imports haven't kept pace. This not only has forced up beef prices but is causing a meat crisis in Western Europe.

A sales drive to persuade Europeans to buy U.S. meat, she suggested, would also reduce the gold drain and improve the balance-of-payments problem.

It took LBJ precisely three days to get a group of cattlemen together and rush them off in a presidential plane to explore the trade possibilities. They came back with an optimistic report, and the president said it was now up to them to rustle up more European customers.

Indeed, the orders already are starting to come in.

Note—for years, cattlemen have tried to import France's quicker-to-fatten Charolais cattle, but they have been barred to keep out hoof-and-mouth disease. To get around the ban, cattle breeders have now persuaded the Agriculture Department to admit frozen semen from Charolais bulls. This will be used to impregnate American heifers, thus starting a home-grown Charolais strain at a time when cattlemen are already breeding too many cattle.

High Drug Prices

In a preliminary report on the inability of many old folks to pay for the drugs they need, the Health, Education, and Welfare Department has accused doctors of permitting the price of prescription drugs to soar. This indicates that the drug companies haven't changed their pricing practices since the late Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., exposed drug mark-ups.

"Since 1939," declares the report, "the prescription costs have soared while the over-the-counter group has shown but a moderate increase."

"A major difference in merchandising between these two classes of drugs is that those sold over-the-counter are both selected and paid for by the consumer who may compare both the claims and the prices of competing brands. This type of competition, which is basic to our free economy, tends to control costs."

"On the other hand, the prescription drug, while paid for by the patient, is selected by the prescribing doctor who does not pay for it."

"The tremendous increase in the cost of prescription drugs has followed the discovery of 'wonder drugs' which have greatly benefited mankind by fighting infections, easing pain, correcting disabilities, curing illnesses, and prolonging life."

"The central interest of many who question the price of drugs is a concern that unnecessarily high drug prices may be depriving many sick and disabled of their benefits."

The World TodayBarry Confident In California Race

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the tangled tale of the Republican presidential primaries, reaching their climax today in California, Sen. Barry Goldwater sounds more confident than ever.

On the night before the New Hampshire primary last March the Arizonian was so cocky about success he said he "had it made." Later his campaign manager said this was a boner.

The man who didn't even admit he was running — Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam — won — and Goldwater and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, both of whom campaigned hard in the state, finished second and third.

Last week, a few days before today's showdown in California, Goldwater, with some of the cockiness gone, said "I think we're winning this campaign." What happened between New Hampshire and California got tangled, indeed.

The next big shocker after New Hampshire was the Oregon primary where the still-silent Lodge's name was entered. Pollsters seemed confident Lodge would win again against Goldwater and Rockefeller, both of whom campaigned there.

Goldwater didn't do much campaigning. It was as if he had taken the pollsters at their word. It was Rockefeller who campaigned although by this time his chances looked dim. People wondered if he was running for exercise.

But—Rockefeller won, Lodge finished second, and Goldwater third. This boosted the governor's chances against the senator in California where it would be strictly between both of them since Lodge wasn't entered there.

It was a blow to Goldwater and, to make it tougher for him, the Lodge supporters decided to back Rockefeller in California against Goldwater who represents the conservative right wing of the party. Lodge and Rockefeller are moderates.

The Lodge people weren't enamored of Rockefeller. But if Rockefeller could beat Goldwater the latter's chances of winning the Republican nomination at the convention next month might be ruined, or so they could hope.

With Goldwater out of the way at the convention, Lodge then might have a better chance since there was and is a lot of skepticism that Rockefeller, even with a win in California, can get the nomination.

In the midst of all this former President Dwight D. Eisenhower—who had refused to express a preference among candidates and said he wouldn't try to stop any of them or dictate the nominee—is issued a statement.

He listed the "principles and traditions" he felt the Republican candidate in November's election should hold. Some of the principles he mentioned did not fit Goldwater too well.

Immediately there was a burst of interpretation across the country that Eisenhower, despite his previous insistence that he wouldn't butt in, had coolly tried to cut Goldwater's throat.

If true, it would have been a strange performance for the ex-president. It would seem that if he thought, for the good of the party and the country that Goldwater should be washed out, he would at least have said so forthrightly.

The statement and the interpretations cheered the Rockefeller forces and the Goldwater people seemed to be trying to ignore any implication that Eisenhower was shooting at Goldwater. The senator said Eisenhower's remarks were "most welcome."

But then Monday, after a week of silence since his statement, Eisenhower was asked by newsmen how he thought Goldwater felt about his statement. The former president said, "You people read Goldwater out of the party, I didn't."

This seemed to put everything back where it was before Eisenhower said anything but at least the Rockefeller people had had a week to make use of it.

By his own words, Goldwater doesn't have a chance for the nomination next month unless he wins today.

Earlier this year, long before the primaries began, he was asked: Could he win the nomination without winning in California with its 86 convention delegates to add to those he already had, perhaps 500?

He said "No. I can't win the nomination without California. No one could."

Monday night he said: "We are going to win tomorrow—I've never been so confident."

Washington ViewpointModerates Will Hold India On Middle Path

WASHINGTON — Now that Nehru has died, some U.S. analysts think:

India will shift a little to the right economically. There will be a gradual increase in encouragement for private business and industry.

U.S. businessmen may find conditions slightly better and restrictions somewhat less burdensome.

The government will still be left of center.

There won't be any more help from India than in the past for the U.S. stand in Laos or in South Viet Nam or in the United Nations. Though strongly anti-Communist China at home, India isn't likely even to take a public stand against Red aggression in Laos or South Viet Nam. She will be critical of U.S. actions in the two countries.

If asked to take more of a leadership role in protecting Southeast Asia from the Chinese Reds, India will tell the United States she has more than she can handle at home protecting her own borders.

The India ruling group will not trust any alliances.

Soviet Russia will still be courted as an ally to counter the power of Red China. Nikita Khrushchev will likely visit India this year.

Dental Hygiene Vital To Expectant Mothers

By William Lawrence, D.D.S.

"A tooth for every baby" may be an old wife's tale, but too often this tale is true. It is not because the fetus absorbs calcium from the mother's teeth. This does not happen. It is because the teeth and mouth are frequently neglected during pregnancy, and excessive decay and gum infections are not unusual.

Diet and eating habits change. If all pregnant women had the weight of a patient of mine who gained seven pounds during her pregnancy and delivered a 9-pound baby, this would not apply. But indulgence in food cravings, eating between meals, and excessive intake of sweets, not only adds pounds and incurs the displeasure of the obstetrician, but it also exposes the teeth and gums to insults over and above the normal.

During pregnancy there are changes in the balance of hormones in the body. This change in balance affects all parts of the body and the gums are no exception.

Gums often become swollen, soft and spongy. They bleed easily and may be painful. The color may change from pink to red. Areas primarily affected are triangular pads of tissue that fill the spaces between the necks of the teeth. In rare cases they become so large they are called "pregnancy tumors," and even though they are harmless, benign growths, they may get large enough to interfere with chewing and have to be removed.

Your first visit to the obstetrician should be followed by a visit to your dentist so that your teeth and gums may be examined and plans made for teeth cleaning and other necessary treatment.

DEAR POLLY— I always rush for the paper so I can read Polly's Pointers. I hope mine helps some other readers. To make bed making an easy chore for the youngsters, I always buy them striped bedspreads. I tell them to keep the lines straight when making a bed and even the small ones end up with neatly made beds. My five-year-old can now make a bed as well as I can and my nine-year-old daughter does so well she has graduated from stripes.—MRS. J. M. D.

Routine City Council Business

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

The City Council approved the destroying of 15 bonds of $1,000 each on the Bothwell Memorial Hospital, a total of $15,000, during its meeting Monday night. Also taken up was a petition from residents in the Southwest Village area, asking the city and the 12-Mile Road District to improve Clarendon Road from 32nd to 16th Street.

Mayor Studer had the petition presented to Council after which Councilman Walter Jesse said he felt the petition should be given the Road District to check, and referred the matter to City Engineer Robert Cunningham to see what can be worked out with the Twelve Mile Road District toward improvements.

It was brought out the residents of the area desire another outlet from the village besides the one on Limit Avenue, which is heavily traveled. The roadway would also offer relief to the traffic on Limit, and give residents an outlet to 16th Street and north to Highway 50.

A request to pay the contractors for tearing down the old St. Louis Clothing Store Building and the old building east, and land made ready for the new parking lot, was made by Councilman Edgar Neighbors. Neighbors referred to the building of Mr. Cramer (Walter Cramer) and Mr. Riley (James Riley). He also called attention to the Best Laundry Building stating he did not recommend any payment on the building until it is torn down and the ground made ready. The request was approved for payment Tuesday.

Among ordinances given final passage was one which conveys to the Sedalia School District 200 the lands of the Jennie Jaynes Lewis stadium, a transaction being completed between the trustees of the stadium, the city and the school district; another authorizing the mayor to terminate the lease with the MKT Railroad on Washington Park; and a third changing the speed on West 50 Highway from the new city limits to the old city limits to 55 miles per hour. At present the speed is 70 miles an hour under state law.

Mayor Studer, after the vote terminating the lease with the MKT, said to City Clerk Ralph Dredick: "Be sure and notify the county and city assessors of this matter so the lands can be placed back on the tax books immediately."

A resolution was passed authorizing the mayor to enter into a lease with Mrs. E. L. Birdsong for the Sedalia Rest Home for one year.

A report from the City Planning and Zoning Commission approving the survey and plat of the Bottchers Addition, was read and accepted. The addition, according to City Engineer Cunningham, had been approved, but adjustments and changing of the plots and lots were made. The land is between East 10th and East 12th and east from Madison Avenue. An ordinance was ordered drawn regarding the acceptance.

Councilman Robert Bader, under sewers and sanitation, reported to the Council on the bills for the new 1964 Dodge truck with new Garwood garbage body on the truck. He explained the increase in the truck price of $2,839.95 to $2,911.63 resulted when it was learned the truck purchased was too small to accommodate the body to be used and the difference is in purchasing of a larger truck. He also presented a bill for $1,150 of the Harvey Bros. Implement Co. for a Ford tractor used in cutting weeds and grass. Also bills for two drums of weed killer at $383.90, all of which were approved.

Bader also reported the expenditure of $6,554.32 from the sewer account to Burns and McDonnell Engineering firm for services rendered. This was also approved.

Councilman Floyd Priddy announced the final tax book had been turned over to the city by the county assessor's office and asked approval of $750 to pay the final cost of the tax books. This was approved.

Mayor Studer asked how much the city assessments were on the books. It was reported personal taxes were down, being $5,732,080 compared with $5,962,990 in 1963, or down $230,910; real estate taxes were up, being $22,133,960 as compared with $21,624,490, or up $509,470. A total overall gain of $278,560.

It was reported industrial tax assessments and ad valorem taxes have not been received for this year. There were no indications whether there would be gains or losses on these two taxes.

Two ordinances were read for the first time: to vacate an alley between Sunset and State Fair Blvd., a half a block south of Fifth Street; also to vacate Gentry Avenue, running about 120 feet south of Fifth Street.

The trial resumed after another chair was obtained.

Wagner Downs Sox; Takes Homer No. 11

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Don't Fence Me In" never was Leon Wagner's theme song.

When the slugging outfielder was traded by the Los Angeles Angels to the Cleveland Indians he said bluntly:

"Instead of trading me they should have pulled the fences in and doubled my salary."

The Angels, however, were unable to accommodate Wagner. The Indians may have to—in the salary department at least.

Wagner proved his point again Monday night, leading Cleveland to a 3-0 victory over the American League-leading Chicago White Sox, collecting homer No. 11 and a single and scoring two runs in support of Jack Kralick's four-hit pitching.

Wagner hit only two homers at home last year in the wide-open spaces of Los Angeles' Dodger Stadium while hammering 24 on the road. But the Angels decided to leave the fences where they were and traded Wagner for pitcher Barry Latman and first baseman Joe Adcock.

Now Wagner's making a solid case for a pay raise.

His latest hot streak—11 hits in 18 at-bats, including homers in the last three games—has boosted his batting average to .309 and his runs-batted-in total to a league-leading 40. At this stage of the season, he's almost half way to his 1963 figures of 26 homers and 90 RBI.

Boston's Dick Stuart, meanwhile, continued his homer hammering, hitting his seventh in the last nine games, a two-run shot in the eighth inning that gave the Red Sox a 4-3 victory over the Angels.

In the other AL games scheduled, Wally Bunker posted his sixth victory without a loss as Baltimore whipped Kansas City 8-4 and Dick Stigman pitched Minnesota to a 2-1 victory by checking the New York Yankees on five hits.

The only National League game scheduled—Los Angeles at Pittsburgh—was rained out.

Wagner provided Kralick with the only run he needed by hitting tting his homer off Juan Pizarro in the fourth. The Indians scored their other runs in the sixth on Larry Brown's two-run single.

Kralick, bringing his record to 5-1, was in serious trouble only in the seventh when the White Sox loaded the bases with two out. But he got Gerry McNeury, batting for Pizarro, to line out and end the threat. Pizarro now is 5-2.

Angels starter Barry Latman, who hadn't given up an earned run, led 3-2 going into the eighth and reeled the first two Red Sox batters. Then Felix Mantilla beat out an infield single and Stuart followed with the game-winning homer.

The Red Sox, however, lost outfielder Carl Yastrzemski, the AL's leading hitter last year, for a day or two at least when he spiked himself in the left ankle in the first inning. The cut required stitches.

Dick Hall's one-hit relief over the final 3 2-3 innings preserved Bunker's perfect record. Bunker was tagged for a two-run homer by Wayne Causey in the third and chased in the sixth when Ed Charles, hitless in 19 previous trips, slapped a two-run single that cut the Orioles' lead to 6-4.

The Orioles put the game out with a five-run third inning, Norm Siebern and Dick Brown each stroking two-run singles in the rally. Luis Aparicio homered for Baltimore in the eighth.

The Twins managed only six hits off Yankee starter Ralph Terry, but Don Mincher provided a run with a homer in the second inning and a single by Bernie Allen, a wild pitch, a hit out and a double by Zoilo Versalles' single produced the other run in the fifth.

That was enough for Stigman, who did not let a Yankee past second base until Elston Howard broke up his shutout bid with a homer in the eighth. Stigman has a 2-3 record.

Major and minor league schedules for the season are as follows:

Jack Tests Columbus Club Course

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, professional golfer's leading money winner, has all but cemented the favorite's role for the PGA's 46th championship tournament here next month.

The 24-year-old hometown idol tested the Columbus Country Club course with impressive results Monday, beating Julius Boros by four strokes in a "Round of Champions" match.

Defending PGA king Nicklaus toured the 6,851-yard par 34-36-70 layout in fine fashion with a 34-33-67. Boros, the National Open champion, was one over with a 36-35-71.

Nicklaus says it probably will take a 275 total to win the July 13-19 events.

But Boros, despite losing by four strokes, said he thought a 272 or 273 could take the tourney, if the weather is good.

"This course is in fine shape," Boros told newsmen after the match. "I wasn't too happy with my putting. I haven't been putting well this year."

The pro stars were dueling to set the target score for the 13th annual National Golf Day, held last Saturday.

Amateur golfers, who paid $1 each to play on National Golf Day, needed a four-under-par score, with handicap, on their favorite courses to earn certificates from the PGA indicating they "beat the champ."

The money they dished out, along with Monday's receipts at the track, will be returned to the track, along with the 170 qualifiers come here in July to compete for the championship.

A gallery estimated at 3,500 paid $5 a head to watch the action and saw Nicklaus take the lead for good on the second hole.

PGA officials watched the match to see if any course changes will be needed before the 170 qualifiers come here in July to compete for the championship.

Spin outs and somersaults highlighted the program with the youngest riders at 13 and the oldest at 64.

The programs are sponsored by the Sedalia Iron Horseman Motorcycle Club. The next event will be a motorcycle scramble race to be held at the track July 12.

Sedalia winners were Vance Kuhns, Ward Wollard, who won first place Minster with Clifford Chappel, John Witte, James Pangburn, Larry Schneider and Joe Yeager taking other honors.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A libel suit asking damages of $2,150,000 was filed Monday by St. Louis football Cardinals star Jimmy Hill against Time Inc., and the Pierce News Agency of St. Louis.

The defensive back said he was "maliciously accused" of questionable play by an article in Sports Illustrated Nov. 11, 1963, published by Time and distributed locally by the Pierce Agency.

The play involved injuries to quarterback Bart Starr of the Green Bay Packers and Hill during a game in St. Louis last season.

Hill's attorney, Jack Monterey, said he is asking for $150,000 actual damages and $2 million punitive damages.

Monetary said the story and illustration intimated that Hill "was a dirty football player."

A spokesman for Sports Illustrated in New York said "Our lawyers say that we haven't been served with any papers in this case, and obviously we can not comment on something we know nothing about."

Europe Facing Currency Deficit In Months Ahead

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Gold flowing into the United States instead of away and new respect for the American dollar in foreign money markets are counted among the happiest surprises of the year's first half.

New monetary strength goes hand in hand with improved American trade prospects and the near disappearance of a prolonged deficit in its international payments. Some signs are also reported that it will be Europe rather than the United States that will face payment deficits and currency pressures in the months ahead.

The return flow of gold to the United States, after an almost steady drain since 1957, was helped by the sale of Soviet gold to pay for grain, but even more by the stabilizing actions of the international gold pool set up in 1961 by the United States and seven other nations to police currency raids such as the one that threatened the dollar in October 1960.

And perhaps just as important was that finally gold speculators came to believe the many U.S. government assurances that America wouldn't devalue the dollar or raise the price of gold above the present official price of $35 an ounce.

The return gold flow is reported by the U.S. Treasury's exchange stabilization fund, administered by the Federal Reserve System. The fund's gold holdings fell $55 million in January; but recovered by $28 million in February, $33 million in March and $176 million in April. At the start of May it stood at $265 million.

This fund is separate from the Treasury's own reports on its monetary gold reserve. This year there has been only one decline, $50 million Feb. 12. Since then it has remained at $15,463,000.

With the stabilization fund's $182-million gain in the first months of the year, and the gold reserve's $50-million decline, the total gain for the country since Jan. 1 comes to $132 million.

International bankers see the reverse flow of gold, small as it is, a sign that the international gold pool is working well in discouraging speculative raids and stabilizing the major world currencies.

Toberman's office is in the new 12-story building of First Federal Savings, which he built from assets of $1,100 to $90 million.

He came to Los Angeles in 1962 from his native Texas and worked for the Santa Fe Railroad seven days a week at $75 a month. Homesickness sent him back to Texas, but a drought returned him here. He lived in Hollywood and took the trolley to work downtown. It was a rickety ride that made him seasick every day, and he decided to find work closer to home.

He dropped into a real estate shack on the boulevard—then Prospect Avenue, unpaved and rutted. "Need a partner?" he asked the harried-looking realtor.

"Hell, no," said the man. "But I'll sell you the whole business for $100."

Toberman made a deal for the business, including shack and furniture; $10 down and the rest later.

MISTRIAL MOTION IS TURNED DOWN IN GESSNER CASE

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—A defense motion for a mistrial was denied Monday night by the judge in the trial of George John Gessner, who is accused of giving nuclear secrets to the Russians.

TEMPLE BETH EL CONFIRMANDS — "Women of Valor" was confirmation theme for the 1964 class at Temple Beth El May 17. Each confirmand told of an American Jewish woman whose life might influence her own for the better. Pictured, left to right are: Deborah Silverstein, Donna B. Silverman; Mrs. Abe Silverman, instructor; A. James Rudin, associate rabbi of Temple Congregation B'Nai Yehudah, Kansas City, who conformed the class; Charlotte Goldin, who lives in Marshall; and Karen Kay. The class received instruction in Judaism history, ethics, laws and observance and significance of holidays and ceremonies. A reception, given by mothers of confirmands, was held in the temple's recreation hall following the service.

Smithton Club Hears Talk On 'PPP' Program

"The People to People Program" was the subject of the talk given by Mrs. John Zulauf, guest speaker at the Smithton Community Club which met Wednesday, May 27, with Mrs. J. J. Lamm, route 2, Sedalia.

Mrs. Zulauf stated that the program started the second year of the first administration as President of Dwight Eisenhower, who felt that there was a new method needed in bringing understanding and friendship between countries more than the government to government level—and that was one of people to people.

A German commented, "You give money—we would like your friendship." So the program was started with letters, visits and the most important thing of all, entertainment in the American homes.

During the second administration of Eisenhower People to People became a reality and met in Kansas City. The Liberty Memorial to the soldiers of World War I was rededicated to the People to People program and because Kansas City is in the heart of America it was chosen as the headquarters. Taking part in the program, Mrs. Zulauf said, was the late President Kennedy, and former Presidents Truman and Hoover.

The first objective was communication, the second the university program, and the school program where letters are written to children in other countries and pictures and small gifts exchanged.

The Sedalia Chapter of People to People came into being when a representative contacted the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Zulauf told the group, and a number of people from various organizations or whom the Chamber felt would be interested were called in. They took it from there, so that there would be a chapter to plan or take care, even on the spur of the moment, foreign visitors recommended by the People to People program, who might be traveling on buses, or otherwise.

Sedalia members have been entertaining, too, students at colleges in the area, the speaker said, because some students have returned to their country without ever having been in an American home.
